Affinity Award

Nomination Form

Honoring creative, effective
Distance Education projects in California

Deadline: February 2, 2009

The Alliance for Distance Education in California is pleased to announce that nominations are now being accepted for the Fourth Annual Affinity Group Awards affectionately known as "The Affy" . This award honors distinguished Distance Education projects in California.

The Affinity Groups that make up the membership of ADEC are the driving force behind its mission. Professional Affinity Groups include Kindergarten-12 (K-12), Community College, 4 Year Colleges & Universities, Lifelong Learning and Business (profit/non-profit).

Last year's recipients included: SECC~Student DV ; CSUDH/Long Beach Aquarium ~ Young Scholar Program and Mississippi Public Broadcasting ~ Education Services.

To qualify for an Affy Award, the project must :

- be inter-segmental - Involve creative and/or unusual partnerships
- have objective outcomes (successes, research, assessments)
- make effective use of technology (i.e. internet, TV, ITFS, cable, videoconferencing, mobile technologies, DVD, etc.)
- be a model for effective student - teacher accommodations.
- be a model for effective distance and distributed education.

The award goes to a project - not a person or an organization
